A true evolution of the bathroom, the Clearwater Interiors AW24 collection showcases creativity over compliance in a new artful age.

The collection creates an interesting interplay between the transformative power of colour - in both design and wellbeing - and the craftsmanship and sophistication of Clearwater Interiors' luxury baths, brassware and furniture.

SHOWER: The Dara Shower Head Round with Round Wall Arm

The Kano 3 Outlet 4 Handle in Brushed Brass

The Lita Round Shower Handset with Shower Hose in Brushed Brass

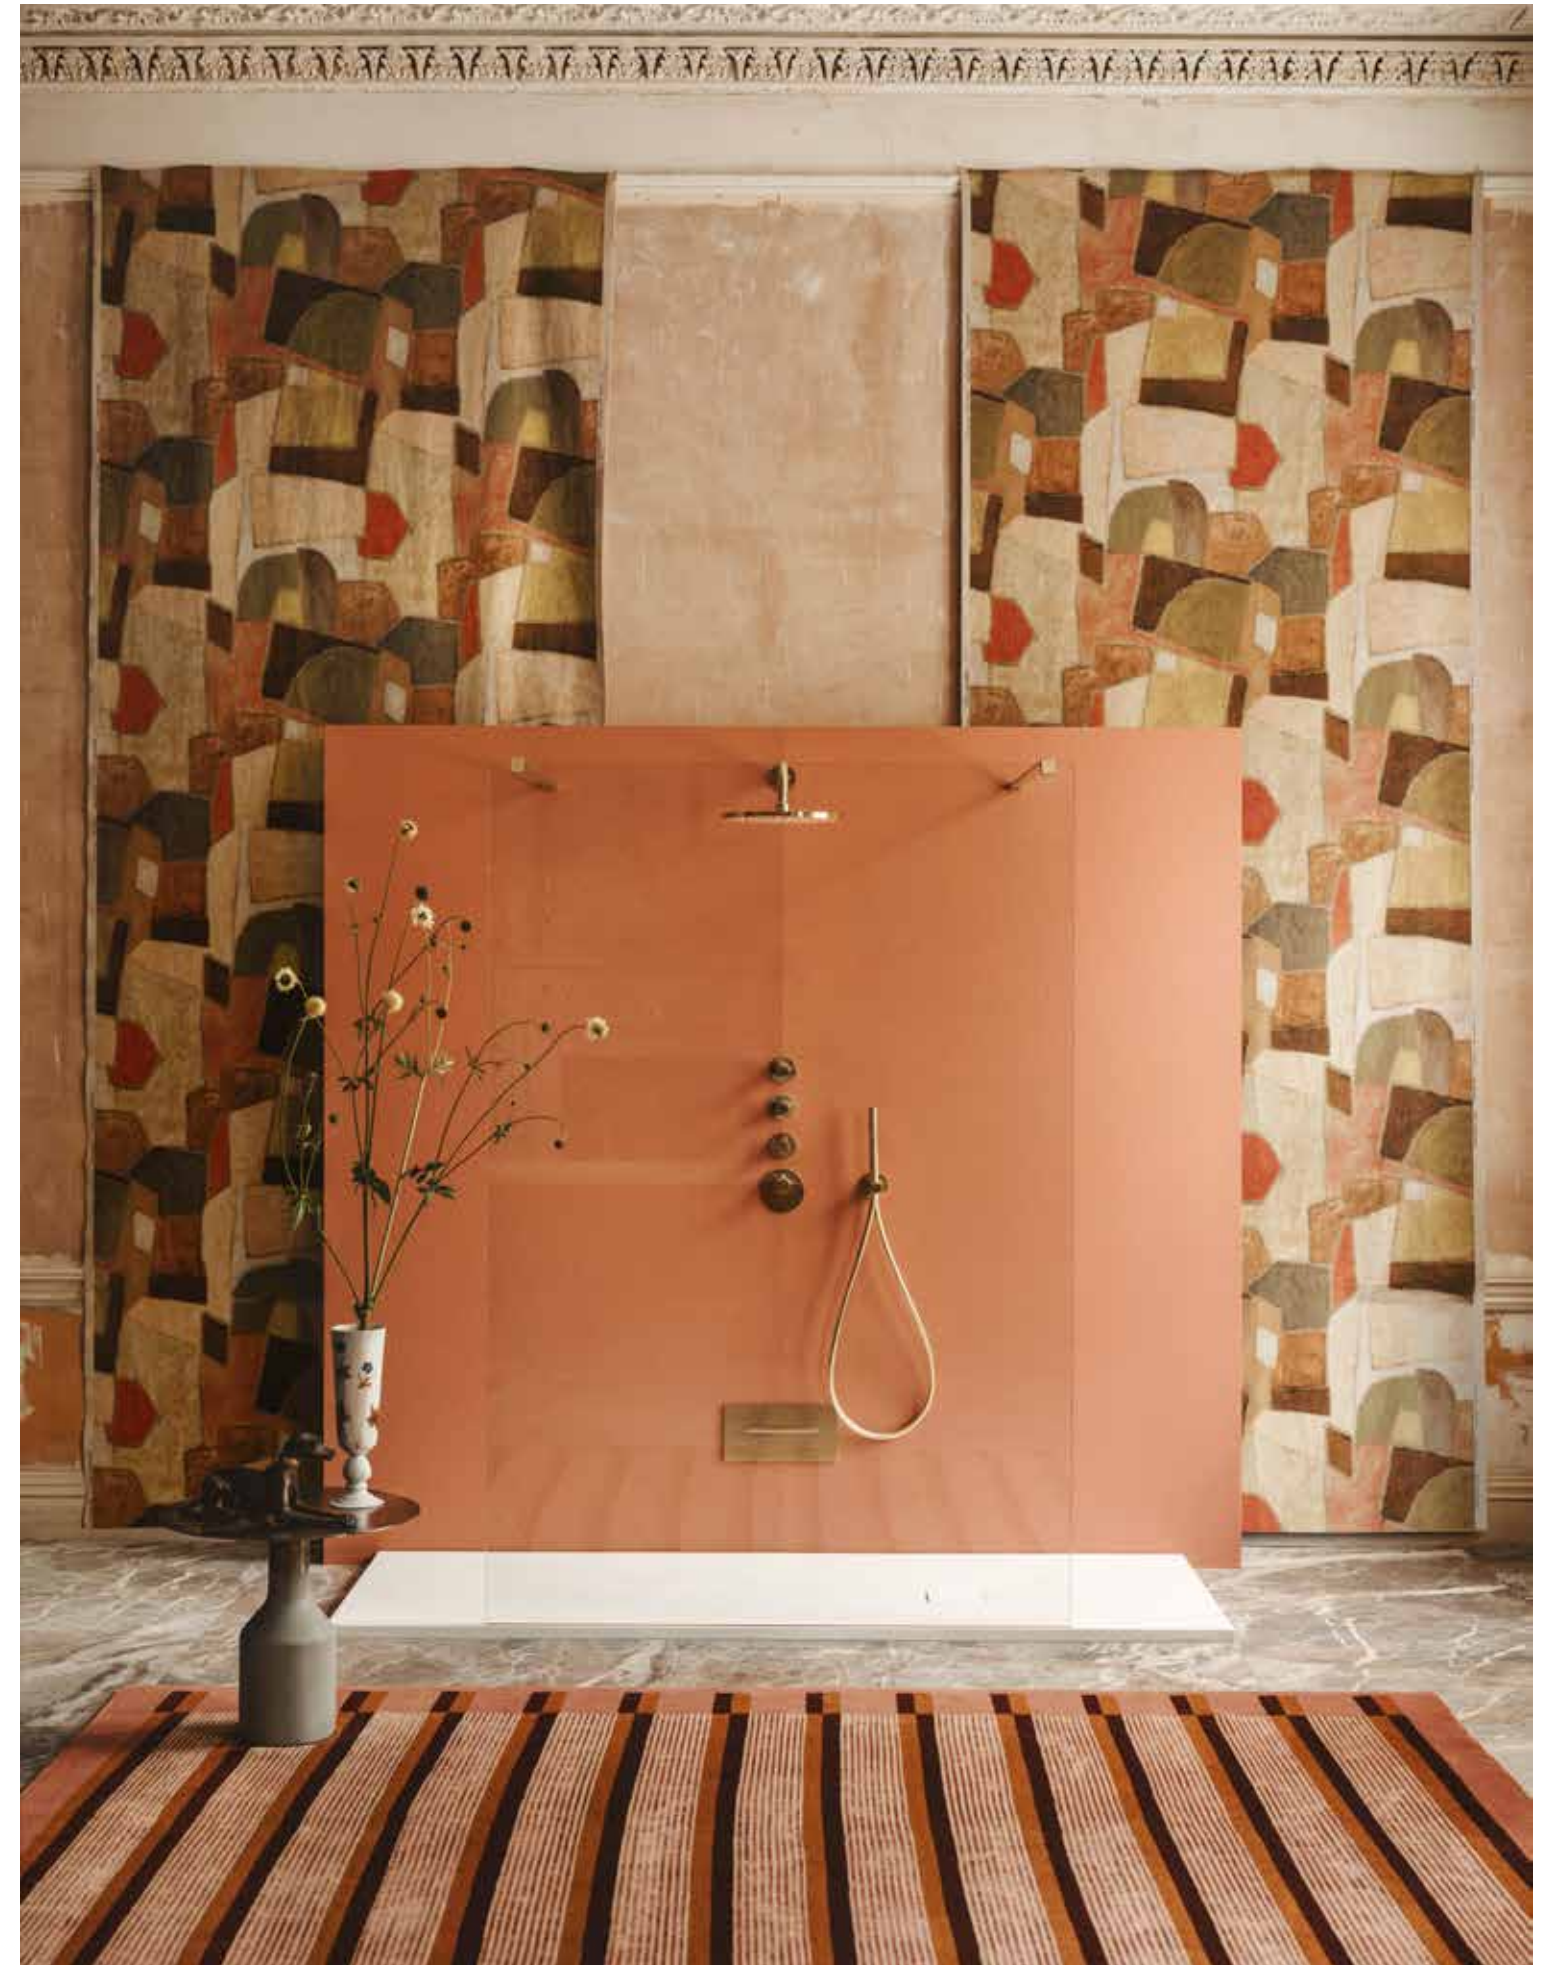

Wall Outlet with Handset Holder Round Backplate in Brushed Brass

The Struen Waterfall in Brushed Brass

ENCLOSURE: The Zera Panel in a Stone Texture in Soft Pink

The Bardo 10mm Bracket Shower Glass Panel with The Bardo Glass Wall Bracket in Brushed Brass

The Evora Shower Tray in a Stone Texture in Matt White

The collection is part inspired by the English Eccentric trend initially seen emerging through haute-couture fashion. From the opulent elegance of printed tartan seen in Vivienne Westwood's AW24 collection to the return of boho showcased across the likes of Chloé and Isabel Marant.

“Eccentric to me means mixing styles, patterns, in influences and periods. The Clearwater Interiors’ new colourways mix contemporary style with the traditional, but in a timeless way that really sings.”

Marianne Cotterill, Interior Stylist

The injection of colour through the AW24 collection encourages eccentric exploration to create spaces that are curated, bespoke and a treat to the senses.

“The collection marks a crucial step in our ultimate goal to be a distinctive bathroom brand; delivering what interior designers, architects and homeowners are coveting in their bathroom projects and spaces.”
